A Path Through Time and Tide

The Hadrian Cycleway traces the path of the ancient Roman Hadrian's Wall, built in the 2nd century AD as a frontier defense against the Picts. As you cycle, you'll encounter remnants of this iconic fortification, including milecastles, turrets, and forts. History buffs will delight in exploring these archaeological treasures while immersing themselves in the fascinating story of Roman Britain.

The cycleway itself is equally captivating, winding its way through picturesque villages, past serene lochs, and along rugged coastlines. From the bustling city of Glasgow to the tranquil shores of Annan, you'll experience a kaleidoscope of landscapes that will leave you in awe.

Pedaling into Nature's Embrace

Along the Hadrian Cycleway, you'll be immersed in Scotland's natural beauty. Pedal through ancient woodlands, teeming with birdlife and wildflowers. Coast along the shores of the Firth of Clyde, where you can spot seals, seabirds, and even the occasional dolphin. As you climb to higher ground, you'll be rewarded with panoramic views of rolling hills, sparkling lochs, and distant mountains.

The cycleway is designed to cater to all levels of fitness, with a variety of sections ranging from gentle slopes to more challenging climbs. Whether you're a seasoned cyclist or embarking on your first cycling adventure, you'll find a route that suits your abilities.

A Journey of Discovery

Beyond its natural wonders, the Hadrian Cycleway offers a wealth of historical and cultural attractions. Stop off at the ancient city of Chester-le-Street, where you can visit the impressive Lumley Castle, built on the site of a Roman fort. Explore the fascinating museum at the Birdoswald Roman Fort, home to a collection of Roman artifacts and reconstructed buildings.

As you cycle through charming towns and villages, be sure to sample the local fare at cozy cafes, pubs, and restaurants. Engage with friendly locals, who will share stories and insights into the region's rich heritage.
